Admissible countermotions and election proposals received by the Company at the above address no later than the end of 26 April 2022 will be published without undue delay on the internet at www.bmwgroup.com/agm upon proof of shareholder status including the name and place of residence or registered office of the shareholder.

Countermotions or election proposals by shareholders which are to be made available pursuant to § 126 or § 127 AktG shall be deemed to have been filed in the Annual General Meeting if the shareholder submitting the countermotion or the election proposal is duly authorised and registered for the Annual General Meeting.

Pursuant to § 126 (2) AktG a countermotion and its accompanying statement of reasons do not need to be made accessible if,

- (1) the Board of Management would thereby become liable to prosecution,
- (2) the countermotion would result in a resolution of the Annual General Meeting that would be contrary to law or the Company's Articles of Incorporation,
- (3) the statement of reasons contains statements which are obviously false or misleading in material respects or defamatory,
- (4) a countermotion of such shareholder based on the same facts has already been made accessible to an Annual General Meeting of the Company pursuant to § 125 AktG,

Similarly, pursuant to § 127 sentence 3 AktG, a nomination for election is not required to be made accessible if such nomination fails to contain the name, occupation and place of residence of the nominee, or in the case of audit firms fails to contain name and seat (§ 124 (3) sentence 4 AktG), or in the case of nominations for election of Supervisory Board members fails to contain details of the relevant person's membership in other statutory supervisory boards (§ 125 (1) sentence 5 AktG). Details of membership of Supervisory Board nominees in equivalent national or foreign company boards should also be provided. The necessary information regarding the statutory rule for minimum gender quotas (§ 96 (2) AktG) will be added by the Board of Management.

The statement of reasons for a countermotion or nomination for election does not need to be made accessible if it contains more than 5,000 characters.

If several shareholders submit countermotions for resolution in respect to the same subject matter, the Board of Management may combine such countermotions and statements of reasons.

3. Right to ask questions and opportunity to ask follow-up questions by means of electronic communication.

Shareholders who have registered for the Annual General Meeting may address questions to the Board of Management on matters concerning the Company, the legal and business relations of the Company with affiliated companies and on the state of affairs of the Group and the companies included in the Group Financial Statements, providing the information requested is necessary for the proper assessment of an item on the agenda. In addition, they may ask questions on matters relating to subsidiaries of BMW AG mentioned under agenda item 9, insofar as these are material to the conclusion of the Amendment Agreements to the Profit and Loss Transfer Agreements which will be submitted to the Annual General Meeting for approval. The questions will be answered by the Board of Management at the Annual General Meeting.

Shareholders' questions must be submitted via the Company's online service at www.bmwgroup.com/agm-service by no later than the end of 9 May 2022.

The Company also allows shareholders to ask follow-up questions on a voluntary basis. The number of follow-up questions is limited to one per question originally asked and a total of two follow-up questions per shareholder. The follow-up questions may only be submitted during the Annual General Meeting within a period of time determined by the chairman of the meeting via the Company's online service. They must not exceed 500 characters. A follow-up question must relate to the answer of a question previously duly submitted by the shareholder himself via the online service. It must not go beyond the content of the original question. The Company also reserves the right not to answer follow-up questions if the information requested is not necessary for a proper assessment of the items on the agenda.

The Board of Management may refuse to answer questions and follow-up questions:

- (1) Inasmuch as the provision of the information, when adjudged applying prudent business judgment, is suited to cause a greater than insignificant disadvantage to the Company or an affiliated enterprise;
- (2) Inasmuch as it refers to carrying values for tax purposes or the amount of individual taxes;
- (3) Regarding the difference between the value at which objects were stated in the annual balance sheet and a higher value of such objects, unless the general meeting approves and establishes the annual accounts;
- (4) Regarding the accounting and valuation methods insofar as it suffices to cite these methods in the notes in order to accurately represent the company's assets, financial position, and revenue situation in keeping with its actual circumstances in the sense of section 264 (2) of the Commercial Code (HGB); this shall not apply if the general meeting approves and establishes the annual accounts;
- (5) Inasmuch as the Board of Management would be liable to punishment under law were it to provide the information;
- (6) Inasmuch as, in the case of a credit institution or financial services provider, no information need be provided regarding the accounting and valuation methods applied, nor regarding the netting performed in the annual accounts, management report, consolidated financial statements, or consolidated management report;

(7) Inasmuch as such information is continuously accessible on the company's website for at least seven days prior to commencement of the annual general meeting, and also in its course.
